Honeymoon Home to Be Erected by Herald At Arlington Heights

Local Contractor, and Business Men to Co-operate in Model Home; to be Furnished Complete, Ready for
"Honeymoon" Couple to Start Housekeeping

The Cook County Herald has decided that it is high time Arlington Heights should have a real model home of its own. This paper is pleased to announce that it has made arrangements thru George L. Parker & Son local contractors, and the Charles P. Gray Company, sellers of Arlington Addition here, for the building of the home. The home will be worth in the neighborhood of $12,000, and will be a model that has not yet been seen in this community. The Cook County Herald is going to make the down payment of about $4000 on the home, for the person or persons winning it. The home is to be completely furnished right up to the minute. Even the groceries will be in the kitchen and the coal in the basement. Gifts amounting to hundreds of dollars will be given away at the Cook County Herald's model home.

However, unlike other exhibitions, this home will not be known as a "Model Home," but will be known as the Cook County Herald's "Honeymoon Home."

The Cook County Herald has always taken a great interest in the forward movement of the district in which it operates, and it feels in taking this step that it is doing a great service to the home-owning public in getting them started right. The cost has not been considered. It is entirely a matter of principle.

The city of home-owning citizens is always prosperous, progressive and independent. A couple owning a home will take an active interest in the welfare of that community's community. Can there be a greater exemplification of good citizenship?

The Cook County Herald's Honeymoon Home promises to exceed anything of its kind ever before held in this section. Everything that one may wish to learn about the construction, equipment, furnishing and maintenance of a home of his own will be presented at the Cook County Herald's Honeymoon Home in Arlington Heights.

The Honeymoon Home will have many displays of materials, furnishings, designs, lighting, heating and sanitation, and will be a veritable course of instruction for home owners who wish to keep their homes at their best, with an economical expenditure of money.

Instructions and demonstrations by experts in all lines will supplement the visual presentation in the Honeymoon Home, which will be beautifully and effectively set up.

The Honeymoon Home exhibition which is under the direction and sponsorship of the Cook County Herald, has been organized for the purpose of presenting home-owning ideals honestly to the public of Arlington Heights and vicinity.

The home is the center of civilization, of progress and worthwhile life. Every citizen of the Northwest side should get behind the Honeymoon Home movement. Every family is entitled to a permanent home—a beautiful home.

Everyone who visits Arlington Addition and registers his name at the office of the Charles P. Gray Company there, is entitled to a chance on this home.

The site for the Honeymoon Home is located in Arlington Addition, just two blocks south of the Arlington Heights Northwestern Station. Arlington Addition is now on sale by the Charles P. Gray Company.

Watch the next issue of the Cook County Herald for further particulars. There are no strings attached to the giving away of the down payment of this home. Everyone is going to have a chance at it.

Arlington Heights Masonic Club Has Election of Officers

A Masonic lodge for Arlington Heights is a step nearer realization by the formation and election of officers of a Masonic Club. With the rapid growth of Arlington Heights, many members of Chicago Masonic bodies have become residents of the City of Good Neighbors. Arlington Heights is strong enough, Masonically, to have a lodge of its own. It is the belief of the seventy-five members who have signed the by-laws of the club. It meets every other Thursday night in the hall above the Peoples State Bank for the purpose of instruction in the Masonic work. A district deputy recently visited Arlington Heights and gave authority for the organization of the club.

Leslie Campbell is chairman of the building committee. Nothing definite has been done in this line, but the erection of a rent producing building with stores on the first floor, is the hope of the club members.

The club officers are: President, Elmer Crane; Vice President, Geo. L. Pfingsten; Treas., Nels S. Olafson; Chaplain, Rev. H. H. Kossack; Sec., Elmer F. Lauritzen; S. W., R. Jahn; J. W., J. W. Pfingston.

ENGINEERS IN PLANS OF WIDE PAVEMENTS

Surveyors are at work establishing lot lines along Milwaukee Ave. through Wheeling for the contemplated widening of Milwaukee Avenue. The present pavement is not necessarily in the center of the street and there may be some surprises when the surveyors complete their work. If this highway is widened, it will be necessary that a sewer be laid in that street before the pavement work. However, the village board will probably take no action in this matter unless requested to do so by the state.

Asking Wolf Road Right-of-Way
Will the outer belt line highway around Chicago, pass through Wheeling? Efforts of some Chicago people point that way. It is no secret that some of the Wolf Road promoters have options upon some of the land through which this highway would pass. Local property owners in Wheeling are being asked to sign releases that will permit the road to be laid out. To put through the project, it would be required to secure the highway right of way on the section line from DesPlaines north. This road would pass through Wheeling near the corner of Milwaukee Ave. and Dundee road. It would have a tendency to establish a second business street for that town and greatly increase the property values.

May Move Northwest Highway from Palatine

The Village of Palatine may lose the Northwest Highway so far as having it continue upon its present route through the village. The proposed widening of this hard road artery would force the condemnation of residence property through the village.

It would be much cheaper for the state to lay out a new pavement north on the Hicks road to the village, and then west on the latter road to the Northwestern tracks where it would again join the present pavement. Engineers have been going over the new route the past week. It is not expected that Palatine people will object to such a change. It would relieve the auto congestion on Calfax street and give its residents something else to smell on Sunday afternoons, aside from gasoline. The project would also advance the values of the farms facing Baldwin road.

Mrs. John Tesch
Matilda Mundenh was born at Waverly, Iowa, September 3, 1869, at the age of 7 years with her parents she moved to Palatine, Ill., where she spent her girlhood days.

On October 18, 1890 she was joined in wedlock to John Tesch of Arlington Heights, Ill., where she resided until her death.

For the past nine years she has been afflicted at intervals with a condition which became so acute on March 12th that made it necessary that she be taken to St. Francis hospital at Evanston, Ill., for treatment, which culminated in an operation on March 19, from which effects she was unable to survive and passed away on Monday, March 21, 1927, at the age of 57 years, 6 months and 18 days. There is left to mourn her loss, her husband, her son, Irving, devoted daughter in law, Alma Tesch, three sisters and two brothers.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon, March 23, Rev. Kossack officiating. Interment was in the family lot at Palatine.

Evangelical Churches
To Unite, Conferences
To be Held April 30th

The Ministers and Laymembers of the Illinois Conference of the Evangelical church will meet in Naperville, First Evangelical church, for the Annual Session April 30. This is the College church of North Central College. At the same time the Illinois United Conference, formerly the United Evangelical church will meet in the Grace Evangelical church of Naperville at the same time. After each of these bodies have transacted their business covering the past year, these two bodies will merge into one conference and will be known as the Illinois Conference of the Evangelical church.

These two bodies representatives made up of an equal number of ministers and laymembers will be over 200 members.

In many states this merger has been accomplished before this and in each case works most satisfactorily and promises good results for the church and the kingdom.

The two churches of which this merged conference is a part were united in October 1922. Before that time these two separate bodies were known as the Evangelical Association and the United Evangelical church respectively.

This church supports four colleges in America, has two publishing houses one in Harrisburg, Pa., one in Cleveland, O. It also supports a number of Old Peoples homes, twenty Orphans Homes, carries on Missionary work in Japan and China, has recently taken up Missionary work in central Africa.

Schaumburg Milk
Plant to Open
On April First

The Schaumburg milk receiving station will open for business April 1. Milk producers who desire to deliver at this plant are asked to confer with Chas. Meyer at Schaumburg. The above announcement has been made by the Lake Zurich Milk Company.

Perhaps the Senate staged that closing filibuster just to show Dawes what filibuster looked like at close range.

Improvements Continue On Perrin Candy Shop

Workmen are continuing the work upon the remodeling of the Berbercek building for the Perrin Candy Shop. This is the title under which the business that has been conducted by Mr. Perrin will be continued by Mrs. Perrin. She will endeavor to follow out the plans made by her husband before his sudden death.

Hecht Elected President of Electric Association

Julius L. Hecht, vice president in charge of operation for the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, was elected president of the Illinois Electric Association during that organization's annual convention in Springfield, March 17 and 18.

Mr. Hecht, who has been an official of the Public Service Company since 1923, was graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1904. Shortly thereafter he became Construction Engineer for the North Shore Electric Company, the principal predecessor of the Public Service Co. Under numerous promotions to engineering position of increasing responsibility, Mr. Hecht in 1915 became superintendent of electrical production and in 1921—assistant to the vice president in charge of operation.

He is a past president of the Western Society of Engineers and the National District Heating Association, a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and also is active in the Chicago Engineers' Club. He resides with his family in Evanston.

Additional Arlington Heights Local Notes

The children of Mrs. Henry Schroeder surprised her on her birthday by presenting her a quilt they had made. They invited the Ladies Aid as their guests for the occasion.

Axel Petersen and Chas. Kosmin who have been taking the baths at Waukegan are expected home today. Louis Roehrer left for Saturday place this week.

It was Wednesday morning. He had missed the train to Chicago. The train was caught at Mt. Prospect. How fast? We do not know. Ask Judge Byrd.

"The Music Master" Will Benefit Local Methodist Church

The Arlington Theatre has booked "The Music Master" for March 28 and 29, arrangements have been made whereby the Arlington Heights Methodist church will benefit financially by a percentage of the advance sale tickets.

The novel by that name as recognized as one of the near classics and the committee of the M. E. church that have the matter in charge feel that they are sponsoring a photo play of a high order and one that can be recommended to the general public.

Those who cherish memories of the New York of 1900 will have them visualized in the Fox screen version of the Belasco-Warfield triumph, "The Music Master," which will have an early presentation at the Arlington theatre.

The story harks back to the time when horses had equal rights on Broadway, when women had no right of Election day, when men had begun to shed side whiskers and before ladies had even thought of eliminating petticoats. Heavy-hoofed Percherons clamped down the street drawing vulgar vehicles known as brewery wagons, in contrast to the more dainty footed saddle horses we glimpse in the park nowadays when the weather is favorable.

That was the day of the long train and leg-of-mutton sleeve, believed to be feminine adornment par excellence by the fashionables of the period. It was long before the bob had driven men from their sequestered haunts in barber shops. Incidentally Director Allan Dwan had more than a little difficulty to get enough women with long hair for his scenes.

Editorials Boost Municipal Bands

Friends of the municipal band proposition in Palatine, Bensenville and Mt. Prospect, which is to be voted on in April, are interest in an editorial appearing in the Chicago Tribune, Sunday, March 13. The editorial, which appeared originally in the Peoria Transcript, shows the widespread interest in the Illinois law which permits municipalities to vote on appropriating a small tax for band purposes. The editorial follows:

"It is believed that more than 30 cities in Illinois have voted on the question of levying a tax not exceeding 2 mills for the purpose of establishing municipal bands before the end of this year. Several cities and towns already have voted on the question, and for the most part have taken favorable action. Under the state law, the tax may be levied if a majority of the voters at any regular election favor the plan.

"Manifestly, the scheme is primarily one that will appeal to small towns, but its educational results justify favorable action in all communities where it is possible. The tax, when levied, may be applied to salaries of musicians, purchase of instruments, maintenance of a rehearsal hall, or payment to instructors. Since most small towns provide the only musical training young people can receive, the measure is of direct educational importance. To some extent it makes up for the lack of musical training in small town schools, and at the same time provides worthy community exercise which tends to foster community consciousness and local pride.

"Small towns surrounding Peoria might do worse than vote a tax levy for the purpose of maintaining a town band."

Charles P. Gray Co. Placing Close - In Sub. on the Market

The Charles P. Gray Company of Chicago is opening a subdivision of two blocks south of the Arlington Heights Northwestern Station. The property is known as Arlington Addition. The Gray Company operates in the United States and Canada, maintaining a general office in Chicago, where they have been located for the last twenty years. At the present time this company is opening seven subdivisions in the middle west.

In speaking of why they picked Arlington Heights as one of their locations, Mr. C. C. Young, director of sales for the company, said, "Chicago people are continually looking to the suburbs for homes, and what better location, from every viewpoint, than Arlington Heights? Teeming with home atmosphere, like other Northwestern suburbs Arlington Heights is spreading out for blocks in all directions. Chicago, considered the fastest growing city in the world at the present time, is moving right in on you.

"Arlington Heights is an ideal spot for Chicago suburbanites. Property values are increasing rapidly. I predict that three years from now it will be almost impossible to get property within a mile of the station, at anywhere near the present prices."

There are twenty nine new homes on the Arlington Addition subdivision at this time. The Cook County Herald has selected Mr. Gray's subdivision for the Honeymoon Home.

Vote $18,000 For a New School House

School district 84½ lying to the south east of Franklin Park held a special election last Saturday evening and voted an eighteen thousand dollar bond issue and choose a site for a new school house, the bond issue carried about 2 to 1, the location a five acre tract at Fullerton avenue and Elm street, about a half mile south of Grand avenue was chosen over a location nearer north avenue by a majority of five votes. They will build a four room brick building, finishing off only two rooms for the present, this new school is badly needed and every indication points to the fact that the population of the territory bounded by the DesPlaines River, North avenue, Mannheim road and Addison avenue will more than double within the next two years.

Next Week's Pictures At Arlington Theatre

Earle Foxe, popular comedian, has the leading masculine role in "Upstream," a John Ford production for Fox Films, coming to the Arlington Theatre, Sunday March 27. Nancy Nash, who had a featured role in "The City" plays opposite Foxe in this comedy-drama of American theatrical life.

Police believe they have a solution of the Van Horne murder to lay in the form of a pretty young bodied haired blonde, arrested late last night in the library of the dead man's home, attempting to rifle the safe.

Further light on the mystery will be thrown on the screen of the theatre Thursday and Friday, March 31 and April 1, where "Easy Pickings," a tense tale of spooks and creaks, is shown.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Volz motored to the southern part of Illinois last week, where they visited their daughter, who is an instructor in the Mulberry Grove high school. They found the vegetation very much advanced down there. The fruit trees are all in bloom.

Citizens Training Camp Opportunity For Young Men

Do you know the United States makes provision for your son, provided he is seventeen years old and morally and physically qualified, to enjoy and profit by a month's outing and training this summer with all necessary expenses paid?

You are most interested in the safeguards that will surround his health while away from home and it is right here that the Citizens Military Training Camp offers one of the strongest appeals.

What is the object of the Citizens Military Training Camps? The development of intelligent leadership.

To succeed in peace as well as war, our nation must develop leaders among its youth. Young men of high type are brought together from all sections of the country on a common basis of equality and under the most favorable conditions of outdoor life.

Through expert physical direction, athletic coaching and military training these camps benefit the young men individually and strive to develop efficient leadership.

Order, neatness, punctuality, courtesy and a willing obedience to lawful authority (Citizenship) are stressed. They are the fundamentals of Camp routine.

Military training is not the exclusive goal of instruction. Enrollment blanks may be secured from any American Legion Post or by writing to the Chief of Staff, 65th, Cav. Division, 1388 Pure Oil Building, Chicago

Drive for Boy Scout Fund Starts May 1

A very interesting meeting of the Executive board of the Boy Scout Council was held in the parlors of the Community church on Wednesday evening, the 16th in Park Ridge, and which was preceded by a supper well prepared by the ladies of the church. One of the most important items that came up for discussion was methods of raising of the necessary funds to carry on the work through out the district. It was decided that the drive for funds would start at the same time in all of the towns May 1st or thereabouts. The location of the scout office for future operations was discussed and it was decided that on May 1st the office would be in the DesPlaines State Bank Building, where the necessary facilities are to be had, and it was also decided that a full time stenographer was to be employed, thus preparing for the big Scout drive that will come very shortly.

The Park Ridge men are meeting Thursday evening, the 24th, in the Mary Wilson home to elect officers to their local Council, and this Council will then meet as often as it is necessary to discuss the Park Ridge problems and in a genuine business manner conduct the scout work. There are five troops in Park Ridge at present and while a great number of boys are being served, there are more who would like to come in, and through this Council more men will be solicited to serve, thus serving the boy.

DesPlaines council will meet next Wednesday at the City Hall in DesPlaines to discuss ways and means of serving all of the boys scouting, and in general boost scouting. It has been announced that an efficiency award will be given to the council having the best record, and indications are that each local council shall not be denied. The scouts have heard of the competition between the council and are watching very closely the weekly standings, which have changed very much since last week.

The standings of the local councils in their efficiency contest is as follows:

	Points
DesPlaines	1170
Barrington	1000
Palatine	1000
Park Ridge	940
Arlington Heights	715

The standings of the troops are as follows:

Troop No.	Points
Park Ridge	3 700
Arlington Heights	8 675
DesPlaines	5 508
Park Ridge	1 425
DesPlaines	6 333
Arlington Heights	7 253
Palatine	2 000
Park Ridge	4 000
Park Ridge	11 000
Barrington	10 000

Whenever any one troop is active within its town it adds materially to the standing of the council, on the other hand if the troop is very inactive and so called dead, the council suffers as well as the troop so the boys are urged to do everything within their power to help boost their own score thereby boosting that of the council, in its efficiency contest.

Speedy Buick Costs R. H. Jahn $11.90

An Elgin paper brings us word that R. H. Jahn of Arlington Heights was traveling 45 miles an hour when he passed thru Pingree Grove the other day. It cost Dick $11.90 for the privilege. He is not kicking about the expense, but it makes him sore to think that he allowed the cop to catch him. He saw a car following him for several miles, never suspecting that it was an officer. He finally decided to let the fellow pass him. Then he discovered it was a motor cop. He says next time it will be more than 45 miles and the fellow chasing him will have to have a Buick to catch up.

Find a Surprise Welcome

Mr. and Mrs. Balling found a big welcome for them when they returned home. Art C. Fallscher was notified by phone from Chicago that they would arrive home about six o'clock Sunday evening. He hurriedly called in neighbors, had decorations put up and when the returned travelers walked into their home they found twenty of their friends ready to extend a welcoming hand.

PROSPERITY HURT BY LACK COOPERATION

"Illinois has money, men and business far ahead of California. Its climate is also pepping giving, but it lacks just one thing that would make it the greatest state in the greatest country in the world—cooperation." That is the opinion of Chas. Balling of Wheeling. Mr. Balling returned last Sunday from a two months auto trip to California. He traveled 3600 miles going there and 2400 miles on the return trip. He had the opportunity of getting right down to the bed rock of conditions in California. He saw and understood the reasons of many things that the "train visitor" would never reach. He was able to compare business methods in California with those in Illinois and the above sums up his observations.

Mr. Balling did not come back home with the intent of a publicity campaign in favor of co-operation, but he saw the results of successful co-operative movements in that far off state, saw the down fall of business in other parts of the country through the lack of that "quantity," and he now has decided opinions upon the subject of co-operation. Incidentally Mr. Balling does not believe that the investors in Texas fruit land will make profits they expect. He says the Texas land may grow the fruits and vegetables but it will take years of co-operative effort upon the part of the new fruit farmers to reach the perfection and meet the competition of California growers.

He questions if Illinois people, who have not learned the value of co-operation at home will know how to co-operate in Texas.

Mr. Balling was accompanied on his trip by Mrs. Balling, his son Charles and his daughter, Dorothy. Primarily the trip was taken as a recreational and educational venture for the children as well as the parents. Mr. Balling forgot all business at home when he left Wheeling January 3, and did not give it another thought until his return March 20. With a mind free from business care he got every thing out of the trip that it was possible to get. He had a lot of thrills, a near tragedy or two and a lot of experiences that many people who never leave home, never experience.

Many Experiences
He spent two days in the desert when a necessary part of his car broke and he was compelled to wait several hours for a passing autoist to give him a lift into the next town. This next town had neither telephone or telegraph and a trip of 23 miles was made twice before the necessary parts could be secured from Los Angeles.

His car had a narrow escape in the mountains, it slipped into a ditch at one time; he was mistaken for bandits; he got first hand information of the southern negro, the Chinese and the Mexicans; he visited Juarez, where he saw the houses a whole lot worse than any to be found in the United States. These things only served to accentuate the enjoyable things of the trip.

They had summer weather the entire trip. They fortunately escaped the devastating rains in California, although they saw their results. They witnessed a sham battle at San Antonio which was put on by a picture corporation in the making of a $1,000,000 film. During their journey they met Mr. and Mrs. Franklin of Deerfield, and Mrs. Peter Schmidt, and Frank Haben, of Wheeling; Fred Helms and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Helm of Arlington Heights.

Charles, Jr., has got other ideas in his head that the butter, egg and poultry business is the purpose of the trip was to inspect the several airplane fields and plants in the western part of the country. Airplanes are beckoning Charles, and his dad gave him the opportunity on this trip to learn as much as possible about them.

Many missions were visited and all of the other scenic points of interest in that part of the U. S., but according to Mr. Balling, none of the states would equal Illinois.

Mr. Balling says that he had to go out to California to appreciate rain. Without water California would be nothing, adequate storage of water is the big problem. The defeat of the Boulder dam project in Congress may cause next July the greatest catastrophe in the history of California. More snow has fallen the past few months in the mountains than in the last 20 years. Experts say that when the water from this snow comes down into the valleys whole towns will be wiped out of existence. The only thing that can save them is a gradual thawing of this snow. The Ballings saw rivers that were raging torrents one day and two days later had dry riverbeds. They never saw so much water leave so quickly before. California people feel bad every time they see water running away. That state needs every bit it can get, and will spend millions of dollars for water storage purposes.

In these days of high prices it is indeed a relief to find a small and economical house that still presents an artistic appearance. The little bungalow shown here-with combines these features very happily.

The roof is green shingle (that always desirable material and color), the side walls are white and colonial blue shutters make a spot of gay color. The gables are covered with smooth matched boards, painted white, that give the effect of a stucco finish. There is a small brick chimney on one end.

One enters the house through the enclosed porch into the living room. There may be found a cozy open fireplace—flanked on either side by windows that are at once decorative and useful giving an opportunity for very effective interiors. There is a completely equipped kitchen and a very generous dining alcove on this floor and two bedrooms and a large tiled bath.

The laundry, heating plant, fruit closets and coal storage may be found in the cellar which is under the entire house. This would be especially good for a family of two or three people.

Cost about $9300. Complete working plans and specifications for this house may be obtained for a nominal sum from the Building Editor. Refer to House A-127.

The Sunday Sermon
(By the Church Goer)

"Still, Still with Thee," was the choice of the M. E. church choir quartet last Sunday morning. The thought of the song was well brought out in Rev. Stauffer's sermon, which was built around these three words, "This same Jesus."

In all his biblical readings, it was these three words that seemed to impress the speaker more than any of the other phrases. He named several instances where Jesus appeared, always in a different role, finally showing him at the cross, where Jesus was crucified. Rev. Stauffer said, "They crucified him, killed his body, but death could not keep Him because just before His death God had made Him ruler of death. Jesus Christ is the same today, our Lord and Christ."

Rev. Stauffer continued by saying that Jesus appears in the Bible framed by a beautiful picture, the dominant note in a great chord, "you study your Bible and you find it to be the biggest and finest thing in the world. Later you will see that Jesus Christ is the dominant chord in this book. Make a study of all of the earlier works in religion and you will find the consciousness of God." At this point, he gave the Book of Job as a wonderful example of the aforementioned religious works.

Continuing he said, "This same spirit, this same Jesus appears in all of these books. This same Jesus, as any how he stands out over all the other characters, even those in the Bible. Jesus Christ, what does he mean to you this morning? He is my Lord, he personifies God to me. He signifies immortality of the soul in dark places. This Jesus has been the same to all. He has been the life, the hope, and the meaning to all men who know him. I believe in Jesus Christ because I cannot help it." Rev. Stauffer pointed out that even the modernists and the fundamentalists, all have this same Jesus saying, "The experience of God is the rock of both extremists. In fact the philosophy of all Christians is the life of Jesus Christ."

A summary of the sermon shows that it is possible to know God as well as any one and that without being a theologian you can have what both the modernist and fundamentalists have in common, namely "This same Jesus."

MORTON GROVE

Herman Hoffmann celebrated his 9th birthday St. Patrick's day, March 17.

Tuesday March 22 about 1:30 a. m. two men and a girl, Edith Wright, Maloney and McDonald came into the Morton Grove Drug store. They are friends of Mr. Kurtz the owner.

They had been drinking and also brought some liquor with them. After a while Mr. Kurtz went to sleep, he thinks he was dozed and while he slept they politely helped themselves to cigars, cigarettes, fountain pens, candy, perfume, etc.

When returning to Chicago at Crawford ave., they were doing about 60 miles an hour which attracted the attention of the detective squad. Upon stopping them they found all the loot in the car.

The squad got in touch with Chief Stegmeyer of Morton Grove and he investigated the affair. Chief Stegmeyer issued three state warrants and took the three from the Chicago police station to the Morton Grove station where they each furnished a $500 bond. The case will come up Saturday March 26, at 3 p. m.

Most of the loot was recovered.

In 1884 she and her husband immigrated to America and settled first at Jefferson Park, some years later in Town Maine and recently in Morton Grove where they resided on Fernald ave. Mrs. Loeding had not been here the last year. Recently her condition took on an alarming feature and she failed rapidly. At 6 o'clock Saturday morning she quietly fell asleep. A good faithful, upright, quiet and unostentatious life has passed into eternity. Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints. Ps. 116, 15. Mrs. Loeding is mourned by her beloved husband mentioned children, the four aforementioned children, one brother, John Gosh in German and 14 grandchildren.

A well posted real estate dealer tells the editor that there are over 6,000,000 lots laid out and for sale. As there are only 3,000,000 people in Chicago, if all deserted the city and moved into the suburbs, there would be two lots for each person so it will be a long time before all these subdivisions are built up and many of them would look better under cultivation or seeded down to alfalfa, then would look better and attract buyers.

Mr. Henry Heinz reports the sale of the Wm. Eichberg farm of 10 acres on church street to R. E. firm for $45,000—$20,000 cash. Mr. Heinz negotiated the sale. He would be glad to find a buyer for his 38 acres on Milwaukee avenue at the east end of Ballard road.

Coons Throws Hat In The Political Ring

Lester W. Coons following his resignation as trustee from the village board threw his hat into the ring in the Mayoral race last Wednesday.

Mr. Coons was elected on the Citizen's ticket last year along with Raymond Barthling and Otto Lainberg.

With him on the Citizen's ticket Henry Mueller, Richard Gould, Ben Kirk and John Gaele for a one year term to fill the vacancy made by Coon's resignation from the board.

DEATH CURVE AT GLENVIEW IS DOOMED

Work on the widening of Waukegan road at the intersection of Glenview ave., was begun Monday morning.

With the arrival of workmen and trucks the work of filling in and grading has gone rapidly.

The contract was let to the W. A. Black Contracting Firm of Chicago.

The elaborated program adopted by the Cook County Highway Department for the changing of death curve where so many accidents have occurred during the last five years may be credited to the persistent efforts of Mayor H. M. McCullen and his streets and bridges committee who have not allowed the board of commissioners of Cook County to forget Glenview and its development.

For more than two years Mayor McCullen has been working with Mayor Geo. F. Quinlan, superintendent of Cook County Highways, President Anton J. Cermak, Commissioner William Busse and other members of the roads and bridges committee to reduce the danger to the motorists-public thru out the village of Glenview.

The curve on Waukegan road at the conjunction of the road with Glenview ave., has come to be called by the traveling public as one of the danger curves of Cook County.

Innumerable accidents, with fortunately but one fatality has led to its being called Death Curve. It has been the cause of more traffic violations than any other stretch of road in Glenview. Violation of the speed law across the bridge has brought many a culprit into the Glenview courts and because of this fact the recommendations of various motor clubs have been of assistance in the enlarging of the road widening program.

The plans call for approximately an eighty foot pavement beginning south of Glenview road on Waukegan extending across the river. A new concrete bridge will be constructed crossing the river on property purchased by the county from Louis Voelk.

The beginning of the road program which was to come to Glenview with no expense to the village was the acquiring of the members of the road and bridges committee with this very necessary improvement in the village.

Mayor McCullen with members of the village council met President Anton J. Cermak and Supt. Major Geo. F. Quinlan at a dinner at the Garden of Allah with Mr. Albert J. Tierney acting as host some two years ago.

The proposition of changing the curve at the river was considered and out of that meeting and a later one held at a luncheon at the Koehn tavern at which time members of both committees went over the ground has come the program thru which Glenview is to be given widened and paved roads and two new bridges without cost to the village.

The county agreed to extend Glenview ave., provided the right of way be dedicated thru privately owned property and it was solely thru the efforts of Mayor McCullen that owners of the Blue Haven property on Waukegan road dedicated the sixty-six foot strip assuring the straightening of Glenview road across the river.

The contract for that strip paved with a new bridge has not yet been let but is expected to be in the near future.

The straightening of Glenview road making it a direct east and west artery connecting Milwaukee ave., with Wilmette and the wiping out of death curve is perhaps the greatest achievement of the past administration.

With the improvement this development of a promising business section to accommodate home builders to the east of Glenview means much to the village. Enough cannot be said of the great co-operation of President Anton J. Cermak, Commissioner Wm. Busse who for years has visualized the advantage of the Glenview road straightening with others of the county board. Glenview should never lose sight of the fact that although she has no direct representation in the county board that her interests are well considered.

Mayor McCullen Starts Back North

Word received at the office of Mayor McCullen on Wednesday indicates that he has started north after a tour of all leading cities of Florida.

Mr. McCullen describes Daytona, Fla., where he was the guest early in the week of Mrs. Frank Hoffman as the most enterprising of Florida points visited. From a real estate standpoint investments in that locality are safe. It is only in the districts effected by the recent real estate booms in the south that the bottom has dropped out of development.

Mr. McCullen and his companion Mr. E. A. Hawkins visited as far south in the peninsula as Miami. They are expected home the latter part of the week.

GLENVIEW

Measles have broken out in the village in families of Rudolph Clavey and Paul Beda. The patients are reported convalescing.

Bert Clavey is ill at his home with diphtheria.

Mrs. John Ploner absent from Glenview for the winter months, visiting her parents in Montana, is back home again.

Mrs. George Frake was a guest at the home of the Thalmans of Wilmette Tuesday attending a shower in honor of her son, Edward's fiancée.

Mrs. E. W. Soergel was hostess at the regular meeting of the Forest Glen 500 Club last Tuesday at luncheon and cards.

Mrs. Evelyn Hoss attended a banquet at the Hotel LaSalle on Thursday evening given by the American Legion and Auxiliary in honor of the National Grand Commander and President of the organization.

The St. Patrick's comic character party given by Mrs. Edna Kellar to her 5th and 6th grade pupils at the school last Thursday, was a great success. The children appeared personifying the comic section characters of the daily papers. Maggie and Jiggs were there as were also Sam and Henry, and Cash and Carry. The children had a good time. Refreshments were served in the basement lunch room.

MT. PROSPECT Watch It Grow

F. L. H. LUEDERS, Editor

The Mt. Prospect Chamber of Commerce is about to affiliate with the Illinois Chamber which is an excellent move and will help our local chamber in being an aid in the solution of many local problems. One of the important issues our Chamber of Commerce is now working on, is the new school building for our village. We hope their efforts will be of big assistance to put the new school in good shape. The Chamber of Commerce is also behind the local band so as to make it a Municipal Band which plan has already been adopted in Arlington Heights and will be voted upon in Bensenville, Mt. Prospect and Palatine this spring. The men in the organization are all men of civic pride and are ready to render civic services when and where possible. Just watch the Chamber of Commerce and you will see some real activities.

The Development Association is being kept quite busy in the building line and are working on five new plans on which they hope to be the successful bidders. Everyone who can is trying to build now it seems and we are in the midst of a building boom.

Our Board of Local Improvement held a special meeting Monday night to consider bids on the Water Main extension in Prospect Park Country club subdivision. Five contractors filed their bids. The Badger Construction Co., C. M. Barker and Co., Tetge & Wiedman, Henry Reese & Sons and Earl S. Knight. The awarding of the contract was postponed until Friday evening the 25th, the Board having held the bids of Henry Reese & Sons and Earl S. Knight who were the low bidders. The president thanked the bidders and the checks of the unsuccessful bidder were returned to them. An estimate on the water main extension for morning side gardens was next considered and it was decided to have the public hearing on this improvement April 5 at 7:30 p. m. The same evening our village board received the petition of the Municipal Band and the clerk was authorized to secure the necessary ballots for this question which will be before the voter on April 19.

The committee to which the tractor matter was referred reported that the bid of H. T. Meyn be accepted and its recommendation was concurred in by the board. Now the chief will have a caterpillar tractor to do some grading with.

March 25 the adjourned public hearing on the paving projects will come up for consideration at the H. Roy Berry company's office on the Northwest Highway and Wille street. Engineer Consoer agreed that all the plats will be on hand and Attorney Thal will also be on the job again. This will be another step bringing paving of our village.

There is another happy person in our village and that is Fred Schaeffer who is glad he is home again from the hospital. Mr. Schaeffer spent a number of weeks at hospital as the result of an old injury that was neglected. However, he is back home with his family and that is his biggest pleasure.

Business is good in our village as all of our merchants are happy and everyone seems pleased with the general outlook of spring business. Our Chamber of Commerce is getting in shape to put on a Trade at Home campaign which we hope will be a real success and give our citizens an idea of what they can save by trading at home. The

Another New Business Block for Mt. Prospect

Actual construction has been started on the new business block for Mr. William Busse Jr. The building, which is to contain two stores on the first floor and two, six room apartments on the second floor, has a frontage of 50 feet and a depth of 70 feet. It will form the first unit of a development, which when completed will house ten stores and shops, additional apartments and offices.

The style of architecture will be Tudor Norman of brick and stone with stucco and half timber gables, making a very picturesque and appropriate facade. The building will be modern in every respect with tile entrances, bath rooms, etc. The apartments will be light and roomy and attractively laid out.

The first floor stores will be occupied by William Busse Jr., Dry goods and Fred Meeske, grocery and market.

The building will be completed some time in July. Architects are Zook & McCaughy of Chicago.

initial cost is not the only item to consider but the quality of merchandise you receive counts for quite a bit.

Both our automobile dealers report a wonderful business. Wm. Busse & Son look forward to breaking all previous records in the sales of Buicks this season. Albert Busse is the leading salesman so far for this firm but the Park Ridge branch is climbing upon him. Let's keep Mt. Prospect on top, A. E. B. you can do it.

The new pump is hoped will be in operation before very long as the Public Service is getting ready to hook up the power and H. Reese & Sons are about to put in the water main connections for the pump. This is a case of preparedness and our village is ready to meet the emergency should it arise.

We have been informed that the first prize winning design for small homes in the Tribune is to be built in our village. This will be model home No. 2 if the plan carries thru. The Tribune prize home is to be built in Prospect Park Country club according to present plans of the Lonnquist Construction Co. The first model home in Prospect Park is now furnished complete and is open for inspection.

The town tax collector has finished his work and from what we learn almost everyone paid their taxes to him so our township and village will have their money real soon instead of waiting until January for it. The village collection also informs us that practically all the special assessments have been paid up to date, so naturally we are well pleased with our financial outlook this year.

The luncheon club met at the home of Mrs. Herman Kieper on March 16. The ladies had a most enjoyable evening and several were the captors of a both pretty and useful prize. After the games tasty refreshments were served by the hostess.

On March 17, Mrs. Gielow entertained the 500 club and from all reports the members spent a very pleasant evening.

The recent spring weather caused several of the men folks to get busy with rake, spade and garden thoughts. Mr. George Meier started by planting three or four cherry trees. Mr. Emil Jachisch began to transplant shrubbery, some got busy with "hot beds" and one had the garden plot plowed.

The task of excavating for the new building on Main street is well under way. As yet we do not know what its owners have decided to call their new building, but we feel confident that the name chosen for it will add dignity to the project.

For some time the need of a Woman's club has been felt in Mt. Prospect. On several occasions a few of the ladies gathered to discuss the possibilities of forming such an organization. A meeting was called on Monday, March 21, at the public school building. Seventeen ladies responded and the Mt. Prospect Woman's club is now a reality. We feel assured that a Woman's club in this community will be the means of bringing the women of Mt. Prospect closer together.

EAST MAINE

Henry Steil has purchased a Reo truck to haul his farm produce, and George Koelper a former East Mainite, was seen here Monday with a new Reo Speed Wagon.

Several folks from this vicinity helped Mr. Gust Koelper of Chicago celebrate his birthday Sunday. The crowd consisted of relatives and old friends and everyone present had a good time. Mr. Koelper has been intimated in planning another trip to Europe soon.

The wonderful spring weather last week, in spite of the warning of the groundhog that spring would be late, spread a fever among the farmers. That is, not a fever cough. Two scarlet fever cases have been reported at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Busse. Adeline and Ralph being the ones on the sick list. Let us hope that no new cases will arise.

Mrs. Martha Lempke and Miss Hannah Becker have returned home from a trip to Texas.

Our village clerk, has left the hospital in Chicago, much improved and hopes to be back home by Saturday.

A man was spending his vacation at a camp. One day he asked a farmer who resided near by what he did with such an enormous peach crop. The farmer replied, "Well, we eat what we can and what we can't eat we can." "We do the same thing, brother," said the questioner. "We sell what we can, and what we can't sell we can sell."

Success looks bigger while you are chasing it than after you catch up with it.

which usually comes with illness, but just a yearning, eager fever to get back to work with Mother Nature. Many farmers have already sowed some of their early crops and are ready to continue. It seems as if the scarlet fever epidemic was leaving this community gradually, appears to be moving farther north. The latest reports say that Irwin Koelper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koelper is now a victim. Mrs. John Ahrens and Heinie Koch are practically recovered. However, not such good news is reported concerning John Weber, whose condition remains very much unchanged. He is still at the Evanston hospital suffering from scarlet fever and pneumonia.

Attention—members of Maine local No. 3 of the Cook County Truck Gardeners and Farmers Association! The first quarterly meeting of your local will be held Saturday, March 26, 1927 at 8 p. m. in St. Matthews school hall. Although "Grandma" Pries was 77 years old March 17, she was young enough to be honored with a surprise party on this occasion. 36 friends gathered at the Pries home Thursday afternoon and succeeded in giving her the surprise of her life. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all with Grandma the center of the merriment. A surprise party is always a pleasant event but especially so when a kind old lady is the happy victim.

The pupils of the upper room of the public school enjoyed a holiday March 23 when their teacher Miss Lawlor, accompanied by four delegates attended the Juvenile Farmers Institute of Cook County held at Fullerton Hall, Chicago. The delegates chosen were Margaret MacDonald, Marjory Engel, Wilbert Wilke and Ewald Ellerbrook, the four officers of the Maine Achievement Club.

LADIES INVITED

Northwestern Take One and Lose One

The two teams from the C. & N. W. Ky. who came to Arlington Heights Saturday night won and lost. The first team, captained by "Mayor" Dollinger lost by 21 pins. Dollinger says it was like getting early election reports. His team captured the first two games, but the landslide in the last game brought defeat by the above number of pins. In looking around for the goat on which to place the blame, the Northwestern boys did not have to look far. Art Weiss, has broad shoulders and he did too much talking anyway. He and his companions were strong Dollinger adherents. He and his thirteenth quenchers were in high popularity the first two games, but after the third, the poor kid was declared a poor mascot.

The second Northwestern team defeated Arlington by 32 pins, both scores being over 2800. The victors attribute their success to the fact that there was no "Art Weiss" in their gang.

The Arlington Five defeated the Hartless-Austin Sunday by scores of 2855 to 2805.

Monday Night's League

Mike Casey's team took two games from the barbers. The latter team is not giving any more close shaves. They are buried so deep in last place that the only thing remaining for them is to "take the works" from a hair singe to a "Bonticello pack." It costs them no more.

The A. B. C. took two games from the Cheviots, thus insuring their lead and title to fourth place for the season.

The Kew Motors further enched their right to first place by taking two from the cent work. There are only two more nights before the season ends.

Tuesday's League

The Jewelers took two games from the Koehler's, overshooting them by 125 pins. Koehler said it was not so bad taking two games away from him, but when the cheery jewelers in their last game attempted to rob the needle pliers of high game score, it is like rubbing salt into a wound. The Jewelers did nose the People's Bank out of second high game by two pins. The Peoples Bank still hold title to high three games, but the Jewelers have designs on that score. Duthorn has threatened to call out the police guards.

Schneberger lost two games to Blatz. Foley rolled 253 and his team mates were looking forward to the eats they would have on the strength of that score, when Becker of the Jewelers with a score of 264 took high score for the evening and incidentally the eats for his team.

honeyed up Tuesday night and made a present of three games to the Peoples State Bank. Captain Niemeyer says it was "one on the house" that evening, but we notice that he gave his team mates a lecture, after the games and they will not receive any more free sodas, until they come back with three wins. There are only two more nights in which to do it, so the coming summer promises to be a thirsty one for the Sweet Shop bowlers.

Among the Theatres

"California" Is Ash Show Next Week

Paul Ash is going to put California on Randolph street!

For the week beginning next Monday, the Rajah of Jazz will wave his magic wand and—presto, California with its glories of sunshine, its mighty magical forests, its eternally blooming flowers will appear in a jazzy stage production Paul Calls "The Sunkist Revue."

California is dear to the heart of Paul Ash. Long ere he came to Chicago he was the rage of San Francisco's theatre goers. Even to this day, the Paul Ash Popularity club of San Francisco is one of the largest in point of membership on the entire Pacific Coast.

This, in effect, is also true about Louis McDermott, who helps Paul design and produce all of his stage shows. Louis, too, is a Californian.

The screen end of the entertainment will be taken care of by "The Telephone Girl," a Paramount production with a galaxy of stars which includes Madge Bellamy, Warner Baxter, May Allison, Holbrook Blinn and many others. It is a story of politics and love and misadventure in which the happiness and even the lives of the principals are involved. Its locale is New York and Atlantic City.

Wallace Berry Makes Baseball History in "Casey at the Bat"

Sports may come and sports may go, but baseball goes on forever!

Heroes will rise in all fields of endeavor, but the baseball hero, the Babe Ruths of the land, will live longer in the memory of man and child than even the mightiest of heroes. For that reason the news that the Roosevelt theatre will show Wallace Berry's latest laugh epic, "Casey at the Bat," coming at this time is not only timely, since the baseball season is about to be inaugurated, but something of joy to look forward to.

With the showing of "Casey at the Bat," at the Roosevelt theatre goes back to its policy of long runs of important features.

For a number of years the beautiful Roosevelt theatre housed all of the special features turned out in Hollywood. Recently it went back to weekly showings. Now it goes back to its original policy and the honor of bringing the house back to that policy of long runs, falls to "Casey at the Bat."

The picture is as mighty as the character around whom it is woven—as mighty as the club with which the Mighty Casey makes match wood of the fences around the ball parks where he played his baseball.

"Casey at the Bat" is a picturization of the famous poem of the mighty demon of swat who at the crucial moment of a crucial game struck out. Mudville's famous hero of swat, the man who was an idler six days of the week and an idol the seventh because his shoulders carried enough heft to hit the ball far and wide.

It is a comic romance of a small town hero who becomes the worshipped idol of every small boy in America and who lives up to his adoration like the hero he is. And in the picture, he retains the multi-talented even though "The Mighty Casey" does fan the air thrice—or strikes out.

Wallace Berry, the chief fun-maker of "Behind the Front," and the more recent "We're in the Navy Now," is again in his element as one of America's and in fact, the world's leading farceurs, for "Casey at the Bat" is a farce of the broadest type. He is ably supported by Ford Sterling and Zazu Pitts.

"The Demi-Bride" Norma Shearer's Best Production

One of the best pictures Norma Shearer has given us for some time "The Demi-Bride," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, opening Monday at the Balaban & Katz Chicago theatre, in which Norma is again starred with Lew Cody, proves to be one of the real comedies of the season.

Miss Shearer and Cody, as a team, have been seen to advantage on the screen before, in "His Secretary," and "A Slave of Fashion," but they have never before had a real opportunity to show their talent for comedy as they have in this production.

The story, which is from the pens of F. Hugh Herbert, well-known British novelist, and Florence Ryerson, is an original and was written especially for Miss Shearer and Cody. The authors have seen to it that both artists are offered ample opportunity to display their talent at whimsical farce comedy, and both Miss Shearer and Cody has not let a chance slip.

As a young French school girl, sent home for her escapades, Norma has a role naive and wholesome, yet daring enough to keep up the tension throughout the entire picture. Cody's transformation from the blase boulevardier to a state of utter helplessness at the hands of a school girl is one of the charms of this amazing and well-acted picture.

In producing his latest Public offering, "Sea Chanties," which opens on Monday at the Chicago theatre, John Murray Anderson re-crutted what was hailed on Broadway as the best male chorus of voices that had ever appeared in a motion picture theatre.

The cast is led by Harrison Brockbank, noted baritone who has been featured in scores of Broadway operettas. In addition there are twenty other singers of note, most of whom achieved success in "The Student Prince," "The Love Song" and other musical successes in which voices were the dominant key. These twenty singers were carefully selected from a total of more than 300 singers. The wealth of vocal ability in "Sea Chanties" is revealed by the fact that there is not one member of the cast who has not, at one time or other, been featured as a soloist.

Corinne Griffith At The Norrish In Colorful Film

Corinne Griffith, known now as the "most beautiful woman in the world" since Liberty Weekly sent its beauty editor in search of a modern Venus, returns to the Norrish next Sunday in a new picture "The Lady in Ermine," produced by Asher, Small and Rogers for First National release.

The tale of a true episode of the war between Austria and Italy in 1810, the picture is said to be one of the most dramatic vehicles the star has ever attempted. Again the orchid-like beauty of Miss Griffith is set off in robes of European court life.

Einar Hanson and Francis X. Bushman head the supporting cast. James Flood directed.

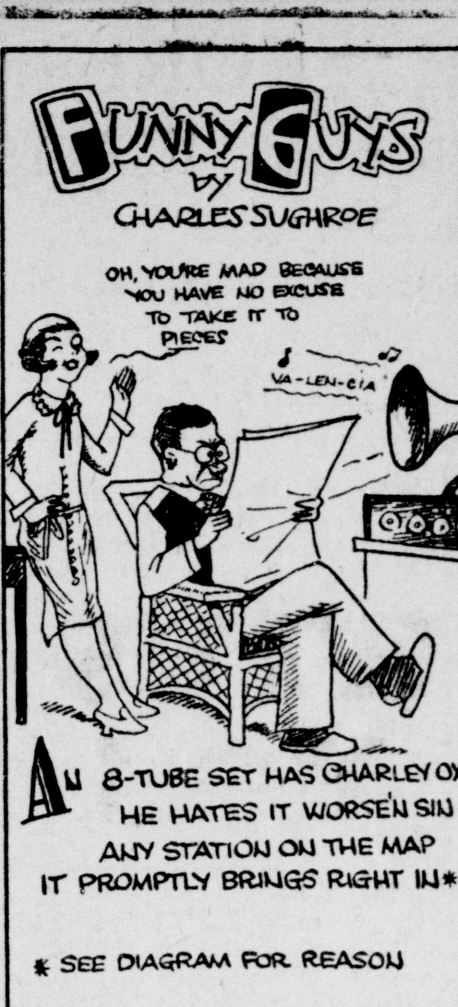

Colleen and Cupid Make "Orchids and Ermine" Great Moving Picture

Since cupid speaks a universal language and love laughs at locks and barriers—such as poverty and humble position, Colleen Moore in "Orchids and Ermine" proves that even an humble telephone girl may win the love of the wealthiest guest at the richest hotel. This in brief is the story of Colleen's latest production, which opens for a week at the Uptown theatre beginning next Monday.

The picture has the spell of springtime, with the laughter of youth and the pathos of a poor little girl running through it—a poor little girl who sees Ermine and Orchids all around her and hopes and prays for some of these luxuries herself. Jack Muihall, playing Colleen's lover, finally brings these things to her—as he should, indeed.

Bennie Krueger, too, under the spell of enchanting spring, has in preparation a tremendous production of jazz and syncopation, and he will share headline honors with his opus with the screen production.

This time Bennie will show in a jazz manner the effect spring has on youth. Throughout the show, which will be in the form of a revue-let or miniature revue, Krueger backache feature of those times, when few housewives allowed them to lie loosely on the floor, but a powerful tack had to be inserted about every six inches, all of which had to be removed and then hammered down again.

After eating dinner several days while sitting on the ice box, the Old Man felt that germs and microbes were preferable. But a great and good work was done. Cleanliness is a wonderful thing in a home, and the men of Arlington Heights fail to realize how much quiet and toilsome work is done by their wives in providing it.

Some girls return home frightened because they were followed by a man, and some come back disgusted if they weren't.

WAR ON DIRT

Spring in the old fashioned home meant house cleaning. About that time the housewife's eye took on a look of fierce determination, and any germs and dust particles promoted their health if they took themselves out of the way.
